JUDAH The Story of King David [1] "And David did that which was right in the eyes of Jehovah, with a valiant spirit, and did more, than all the house of his father because he walked before Jehovah in the ways of David his father, and in his truth. [2] Then Jehovah gave Solomon his son [3] wisdom, and [4] understanding, and breadth of [5] sight, and [6] favor, and the king's favor did not slop, and Jehovah of love to David his father. [7] And Jehovah lifted up the horn of David his servant, so that they could go up with him, with the two of the tribe of Judah to bring up his son after him, and with the two of the tribe of Reuben, his father's house. [8] And [9] there went with the king, two men of the servants of Jehovah: and Solomon had four hundred eighty [10] valiant men, and of the servants of Solomon one thousand seven hundred [11] who were experts in war, of the captains of his armies. [12] And David and all the house of Judah and all the house of Israel were enrolled, everyone to the tenth generation, and to the uses of the sword for war, and for the uses of other work. [13] And it was Solomon who, after he had prepared him, led him with the two princes of the house of Judah. And Jehovah was before them and behind them.
